Dear Dr. Kehoe:

In preparing articles describing the various features of the conference held in Cincinnati last week for official publication of Virginia Fruit, I submit the following manuscript pertaining to your address on your work with lead. This is, of course, is very brief, and realizing the possibility that I might not have understood or correctly remembered your address in all parts, I would appreciate it if you would glance through and make any corrections, as I want the data to be correct so far as I have given it.

I will greatly appreciate your reviewing this article, and feel perfectly free to make any corrections you wish. I will be glad to send you a copy of the July issue of Virginia Fruit when off the press.

With best wishes, I am

Yours very truly,

WSC:R
