

October 17, 1949

Dr. H. H. Smead,
Medical Director,
Solar Aircraft Company,
18th and Grand Avenue,
Des Moines 5, Iowa.

Dear Doctor Smead:

Doctor Robert A. Kehoe's letter of October 13 may be supplemented by the attached list of references prepared by our Librarian.

Sincerely yours,

Francis F. Heyroth, M.D.

FFH:fe
encl(1)

cc:Dr. R. A. Kehoe

Aluminum

Jöⁿtten, K. W. and Eickhoff, W.: The lung hazards of aluminum dust.
II. Pathologico-anatomical findings in animal experiments. Arch.
Hyg. Bakteri^ol. 130: 1-45, 1943.

Marchi, Antonio de: On experimental aluminum pneumoconiosis. Schweiz.
Z. Tuberk. 4:413-433, 1947. Abstr. J. Ind. Hyg. Toxicol. 31:76, 19

Policard, A.: Experiments on the harmfulness of metallic aluminum dust. Bull. acad. natl. med. 131: 543-4, 1947. CA 43: 3936_c, 1949

Cobalt

Fairhall, L.T., Keenan, R. G. and Brinton, H.P.: Cobalt and the dust environment of the cemented tungsten carbide industry. Pub. Health Repts. 64: 485, 1949.

Fairhall, L.T., Castberg, H.T., Carrozzo, N.J., Brinton, H.P.:
Industrial hygiene aspects of the cemented tungsten carbide industr
Occupational Med. 4:371, 1947.

Nickel

Friberg, Lars: Proteinuria and kidney injury among workmen exposed to cadmium and nickel dust. Preliminary report. J. Ind. Hyg.
Toxicol. 30:32, 1948.

Perry, Kenneth M.A.: Diseases of the lung resulting from occupational dusts other than silica. Thorax 2:91, 1947.