Dear Mr. Kraushaar:

The Aroclors listed in your letter dated June 18 are no longer available for any application except for limited use in closed system electrical capacitors and transformers.

These materials were withdrawn from all other uses because they were identified as environmental contaminants.

I regret any inconvenience the lack of these materials may cause you. I am personally not familiar with any alternative materials which I would recommend for your application.

Sincerely,

W. B. Papageorge
