KEENE CORPORATION'S ANSWERS TO
PLAINTIFFS SECOND SET OF INTERROGATORIES
INTRODUCTION

Keene Corporation ("Keene") has never mined asbestos, nor manufactured, processed, fabricated, routinely sold, distributed, or otherwise placed into commerce thermal insulation or acoustical products containing asbestos. A former subsidiary of Keene, Keene Building Products Corporation ("KBPC"), and KBPC's corporate predecessors, Baldwin-Ehret-Hill, Inc. ("BEH"), a Pennsylvania corporation, Ehret Magnesia Manufacturing Company ("Ehret"), a Pennsylvania corporation, and Baldwin-Hill Company ("B-H"), a New Jersey corporation, did at one time manufacture and sell thermal insulation or acoustical products containing asbestos. Keene expressly denies that it is the successor to the unknown and unforeseen contingent tort, contractual, or other liabilities of KBPC, BEH, and BEH's corporate predecessors.

Keene was formed in 1967 and acquired substantially all of the stock of BEH in 1968. BEH became a subsidiary of Keene. BEH resulted from a 1959 merger of Ehret and B-H. In 1970, BEH was merged, and its business was transferred, into another Keene subsidiary, KBPC. KBPC, BEH, and BEH's corporate predecessors manufactured and sold insulation products, including some thermal insulation and acoustical products containing asbestos.

None of the companies was ever in the business of mining, milling, distributing, or importing raw asbestos fiber. During the 1960's, BEH commenced efforts to eliminate asbestos from its products. By 1972, all asbestos was removed from the thermal insulation and acoustical products manufactured by KBPC which contained it. KBPC ceased to be a Keene subsidiary in 1974 and some assets of KBPC were transferred to Keene and the remainder of the assets remained in KBPC whose stock was sold to a third party. Documents generated after that date are not relevant to this lawsuit.

The information provided in these responses is based upon knowledge obtained through a review of Keene's documents and records and through a review of existing documents and records of KBPC, BEH, and BEH's corporate predecessors.

Many of the events which may be relevant to the issues in this lawsuit occurred prior to Keene's purchase of the stock of BEH. In addition, much of the information being sought by plaintiff involves events which occurred decades prior to the commencement of this suit. Many of the individuals who might have had personal knowledge of the matters to which plaintiff's discovery relates are deceased or are otherwise unavailable to Keene, and investigations to date indicate that at least some of the documents which relate to the matters inquired about were discarded in the regular course of business prior to commencement of the asbestos personal injury litigation.

Furthermore, no single individual can now be found who is aware of all facts relevant to this litigation. Information must be assimilated from those records which still exist and from former employees of companies other than Keene. Accordingly, Keene can only relay this information; it cannot attest to the accuracy or truthfulness of such responses. Information of this nature is being supplied because it may lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

For these reasons, the information being provided in these responses may be incomplete. Keene is engaged in a continuing investigation into the subject matter sought by this discovery, and its responses are based upon this investigation. Keene cannot exclude the possibility that its continued investigation may at some future time reveal more complete information, or even information which indicates that an answer which is now being supplied is incorrect. Keene reserves the right to supplement these responses at a future date if additional information is discovered.

Unless the context requires a contrary interpretation, the terms "defendant," "you," or "your" as used herein refer to KBPC, BEH, and BEH's corporate predecessors only, and are not intended to include or refer to Keene alone or in part. Answers referring to the manufacture, distribution, purchase, or sale of thermal insulation or acoustical products containing asbestos or any activities related thereto are based upon acts of KBPC, BEH, and BEH's corporate predecessors.

To the extent that the information contained herein differs in any respect from any prior response to discovery, these responses shall be deemed to update and supersede such prior response in any and all cases.

This introduction is explicitly incorporated into each of the responses hereinafter provided.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Keene generally objects to these interrogatories as being unduly burdensome, harassing, oppressive, vexatious, boilerplate, overly broad as to time, scope, or location, vague, lacking in particularity, and repetitious. The use of the words "any," "all," "each," or "every" is overly broad and objected to. Objection is made to the extent these interrogatories assume the truth of facts not proven or facts not in evidence. Objection is made to these interrogatories on the grounds that they seek information which is not relevant or not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Objection is also made to these interrogatories to the extent that they seek information or materials which have been gathered or prepared in the course of the asbestos litigation, or which are otherwise protected by the attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine, or by any other applicable privilege. Keene also objects to these interrogatories to the extent that they seek confidential, trade secret, or other proprietary information or materials.

Keene further objects to these interrogatories to the extent that they improperly call for a legal, medical, or scientific opinion or conclusion which Keene is not qualified to render.

To the extent these interrogatories seek information regarding health risks to individuals who worked at plants where thermal insulation or acoustical products containing asbestos were manufactured, Keene objects on the ground that such information is not relevant or not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. See, e.g., Wesley Theological Seminary v. U.S. Gypsum, 876 F.2d 119 (D.C. Cir. 1989); Lohrmann v. Pittsburgh-Corning Corp., 782 F.2d 1156, 1164-1165 (4th Cir. 1986); Catasagua Area School District v. Raymark Industries, 662 F. Supp. 64 (E.D. Pa. 1987); Smith v. Celotex, 564 A.2d 209 (Pa. Sup. Ct. 1989); and Martin v. Johns-Manville Corp., 508 Pa. 154, 175, 494 A.2d 1088, 1099 (1985).

Keene further objects to these interrogatories to the extent they seek medical records or other privileged personnel information, and Keene will not provide such information absent an appropriate waiver of the applicable privilege.

Keene does not concede that any of its answers to these interrogatories are or will be admissible evidence at a trial of this action, and Keene does not waive any objection, on any ground, whether or not asserted herein, to the use of any such answer at trial.

These General Objections are explicitly incorporated into each of the responses hereinafter provided.

1. For each document listed below, please answer whether such document is a true correct duplicate of a genuine and authentic document:
