

To: Jackson, Ryan[jackson.ryan@epa.gov]
From: POLITICO
Sent: Sun 9/24/2017 11:38:04 PM
Subject: BREAKING NEWS: Trump's travel ban to be replaced with new set of restrictions

President Donald Trump's controversial travel ban will morph into a new set of restrictions on travelers from a larger set of countries, U.S. officials announced Sunday night.

The current policy, which denies visas to citizens of six majority Muslim countries, will be replaced by a new set of travel limits on eight countries, including all but one of those on the previous list. The nations facing travel restrictions under the new policy are Chad, Iran, Libya, North Korea, Somalia, Syria, Venezuela and Yemen, officials said Sunday. Existing visa-holders are exempt, and waivers will remain available for travelers with U.S. ties.

One country on the current list, Sudan, was dropped from the new restrictions, which will take effect Oct. 18.

Read more: <http://www.politico.com/story/2017/09/24/trump-travel-ban-iran-korea-syria-243078>

To change your alert settings, please go to <https://secure.politico.com/settings>

This email was sent to jackson.ryan@epa.gov by: POLITICO, LLC 1000 Wilson Blvd.
Arlington, VA, 22209, USA

Please click here and follow the steps to unsubscribe.
