In spite of the very considerable transport difficulties, satisfactory progress has been made in the development of the blue crocidolite asbestos mines and mill in Western Australia. Trial runs are now being made of the mill plant and it is expected that we shall shortly be in full production.

During the year the erection of the mill in Tasmania for the production of chrysotile asbestos fibre was completed and it has been in operation since the early part of this year.

We are now in course of taking over Asbestos Products Limited, and propose continuing to operate this business for the manufacture of asbestos products.
