Esso Medical Bulletin

Paul,

Esso published the Medical Bulletin for its doctors around the world, this came from a search I did at National Library of Medicine.

In my visit to old Dr. Eckardt, he told about an unpublished Esso Health Hazards Handbook he first wrote in 1955. Perhaps you can get them to produce this and subsequent editions.

Fragmentary notes of mine say Esso had a patent for asbestos in lube grease, noted in Asbestos magazine in May 1969. I can ask author of Ch. 6 of my book, former patent agent Stephen Berger to come up with this. You may wish to nail down in discovery that Esso/Humble used asbestos as an ingredient of manufactured products (i.e., they were an asbestos manufacturing co.).

No charge for my services, just pay the victims group (VLA) for copying of file.

Great speaking with you,

Barry
