House as Gift

Special to the Mercury Herald

MONTEREY, March 18.—Monterey's historic Robert Louis Stevenson house will become state park property if the division of parks will promise to maintain the building perpetually as a historical monument.

The announcement was made this week by Colonel Roger S.
Fitch of Monterey, who presented the proposal to the park commission at Sacramento. Owners of the building are Mrs. W.
C. Van Antwerp of Burlingame and Mrs. Tobin Clark of San Diego.

Other conditions under which the building is offered are: That it be accessible to the public, free of charge, during reasonable hours; that the state provide a full-time custodian; that the state make all necessary repairs; build a fireproof concrete vault in the lower part to preserve "Stevensoniana" and other historic documents; that present tenants be given six months to vacate.

Darwin Tate, chief of parks, visited the buildings last week end.

Why so many men will wear only Nettleton shoes

When you buy something, no matter what it might be, it's a grand feeling to know for certain that it's well worth the price you pay for it. It is this feeling that has made Nettletons the exclusive shoes for so many men. Years ago, shoes of the finest quality made Nettleton famous. That quality has always remained consistent.
