

"incomplete," in that, for example, they are missing appendices, we will make every effort to locate the "complete" document.

In order to avoid duplication, we agreed it is unnecessary to produce documents which are identical to other documents except that they have been underlined or highlighted. We will, however, produce documents which are the same as other documents if they contain marginal notations.

If your understanding of our conversation differs from mine, or the terms we agreed to are unacceptable to your client, please let me know. Otherwise, we will proceed to respond to the request as I have indicated herein.

Sincerely,

Judith W. Wheeler
Attorney
Pesticides and Toxic Substances
Division (LE-132P)

cc: Ruth Woodruff