COMMENTS

Accident experience at your location has shown a remarkable improvement for the first nine months of your current insurance policy year as compared to prior years.

The only blemish to be found on this fine record is the heart attack death case of . With the exception of this case, total disabling plant injuries and cost would be virtually negligible.

We feel that your improved accident record has resulted from the establishment of regular supervisory and employee safety meetings and management's continuous effort to correct unsafe conditions and to encourage employees in safe work practices.

PLANT SAFETY ORGANIZATION SUMMARY

MANAGEMENT SUPPORT

Management has devoted much time, interest and effort toward the control of employee injuries.

SAFETY ORGANIZATION

Regular supervisor and employee safety meetings are being held and many beneficial ideas and recommendations are being submitted to improve plant safety conditions.

EMPLOYEE EDUCATION

Supervisors are holding employee safety meetings, safety films are being shown, accident data comparisons between departments are being posted on safety bulletin boards and general employee education and interest is good.

CONTROL OF HAZARDS

Continued effort and progress is being made to correct unsafe plant physical conditions.

ADEQUATE FIRST AID

Plant first aid facilities and maintenance of personal protective equipment are both excellent. Consideration has been given to the idea of having one of your employees obtain a first aid instructor's certificate so that first aid courses could be conducted among plant personnel.

INSPECTION

Plant inspections are carried out by management, supervisors and employees and recommendations submitted at safety meetings.

INVESTIGATION

Management investigates accidents to determine corrective action to prevent similar types of accidents.
