ANY WEEK-END CHEF will tell you there is more than art to outdoor cooking. Part of the success in preparing a delicious barbecue dish is in the selection and use of proper equipment. With the big increase and interest in outdoor cooking in California has come a flood of special equipment that makes the cooking easier. One of the latest innovations is a special rack to hold shish kebab skewers. The rack will fit on any of the tub-type barbecue pits. It screws onto the center post or fits over the raising mechanism so that the barbecue grill itself does not have to be used. Skewers and rack are chrome plated. The price of the unit with four skewers is $4.95.
