

after the last date upon which the documents were inspected. Any dispute as to the propriety of any objection can thereafter be resolved by the Court.

Further, Abex ceased manufacturing and selling its asbestos-containing automotive friction products in 1987 due to a shift in the demand for automotive friction products.