

quote any offer for sardines
Canners regarded the summer sardine market as holding no great promise. They said the summer pack last year had been heavy and they had a lot of holdover. Some canners said half the winter pack was still on hand both in Monterey and San Pedro.

Although summer packing is legal now, a 14-inch minimum size limit has made fishing impossible because of the absence of sardines of this size. The size limit will be reduced to eight inches Friday.
