Subject: Fwd: Bristol Bay Watershed

Why is the EPA not following through on it's promise to follow the law and processes in place by not withdrawing from the proposed restrictions? The EPA is being biased by a well-organized, well-funded and highly motivated minority! The use the previous studies that were heavily biased against the project by politics and not by science is ridiculous. When a vote was taken of the people of the area, the anti-Pebble people prevailed by only a few votes, a virtual tie. Look at the facts and science, not the hysteria.
