

TABLE 97. RELATION BETWEEN DRY AND WET BULB TEMPERATURES AND EFFECTIVE TEMPERATURE FOR 300 FT. AIR VELOCITY

Dry Bulb Temp.	25	30	35	40	45	49	52	54	56	58	60	62	64	66	68	70	72	74	77	80	85	90	95	100
Effective Temperature
30
35
40
45
50
54
57
60
62
64
66
68
70
72
74
76
78
80
83
86
90
95
100
105
110
120

TABLE 98. RELATION BETWEEN DRY AND WET BULB TEMPERATURES AND EFFECTIVE TEMPERATURE FOR 500 FT. AIR VELOCITY

Dry Bulb Temp.	25	30	35	40	45	49	52	54	56	58	60	62	64	66	68	70	72	74	77	80	85	90	95	100
Effective Temperature
30
35
40
45
50
54
57
60
62
64
66
68
70
72
74
76
78
80
83
86
90
95
100
105
110
120																								