Hi Mimi, what's your deadline?

Hello - I'm writing an article about family beach vacations that will include tips for choosing a destination. Beach water quality is among those tips. I plan to include the EPA website and would like to also include a comment from someone at the agency.

The article is for Alamo Rent a Car's Scenic Route Page: https://www.alamo.com/en\_US/car-rental/scenic-route.html, so I'm looking for general information about how to check a beach's water quality in the U.S. Does the EPA have an annual beach report card, for example?

I live in Los Angeles and Heal the Bay has a helpful beach report card for L.A., but I'm having trouble finding something similar on a national scale.

Thanks so much and I'm looking forward to hearing from you.
