Subject: A December to Remember: Energy Tracker Update and 2019 Regulatory Outlook

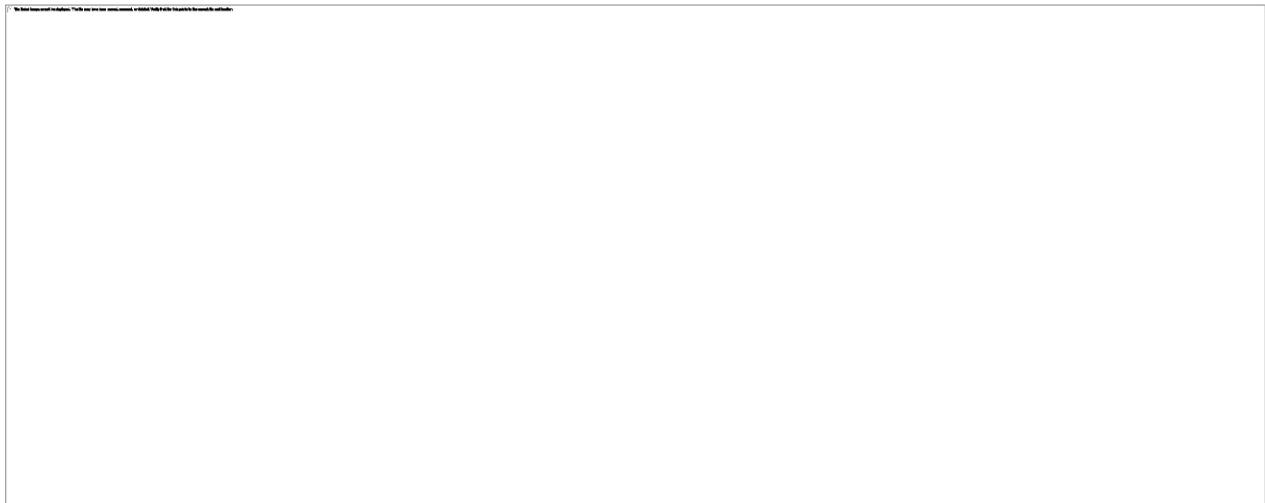

WOTUS, Sage Grouse, KLX, Seismic and more

Dear Mandy:

Season's Greetings! The latest updates to the Global Energy Institute – Beveridge & Diamond Energy Tracker are now live. The final weeks of 2018 have been busy, with a flurry of important regulatory actions and court decisions making news almost every day.

Below is just a small sample of recent developments that are included among the 130 federal energy-related issues monitored by the Tracker. Click below to check it out!

As busy as it is right now, 2019 promises more of the same. Below just a sample of forthcoming major actions expected in the coming months (according to OMB's semiannual regulatory agenda). The Tracker will be covering all of these, so to stay on top of the action as we enter 2019, be sure to sign up to receive regular updates.

Finally, please share the Tracker updates with co-workers and colleagues interested in following the latest in energy policy.
