Gov. Scott Visits Hurricane Irma Shelter and Discusses Recovery Efforts in Monroe County

MARATHON, Fla. – Today, Governor Rick Scott, U.S. Department of Homeland Security Acting Secretary Elaine Duke and American Red Cross CEO Gail McGovern visited Florida families and volunteers at a Hurricane Irma shelter in Monroe County. Governor Scott and Acting Secretary Duke also met with state and local officials to discuss ongoing Hurricane Irma response and recovery efforts in the Florida Keys.

Since Hurricane Irma impacted our state, Governor Scott has visited communities in the Florida Keys, Southwest Florida and Northeast Florida to discuss response and recovery efforts with local leaders and thank first responders and volunteers.
