Hi Kathleen,

I am working on fitting this into the Secretary's schedule. It is definitely going to have to be Thursday or Friday. Most likely Friday. Once I have a time I will get back to you.

Thanks,
Sam

To best accommodate busy schedules, perhaps a phone call would be the simplest to arrange. I apologize for the urgent request, but we're really hoping we can do this as soon as possible perhaps Wednesday. Again, sorry for the last minute request. We certainly appreciate your consideration

Thank you.

THANK YOU

for making

The Steamboat Institute's
10th Annual Freedom Conference & Film Festival
the best one yet!

I'm thrilled you were able to join the nearly 500 freedom-loving Americans at The Steamboat Institute's 10th Annual Freedom Conference & Film Festival this past weekend. It's because of you that The Steamboat Institute has accomplished so much in just our first decade.
Thank you.

The Steamboat Institute started from humble beginnings in 2008 with a lofty vision of inspiring Americans to partake in the active defense of liberty, and to become more involved in the political process.

With the help of dedicated donors and friends, we launched our flagship Freedom Conference in 2009 to inspire Americans by bringing in our nation's leaders in conservative thought and policy, addressing timely issues and providing unique networking opportunities with like-minded peers.

This past weekend, we saw our most successful Freedom Conference yet, and I'm excited you were able to participate! The 10th Annual Freedom Conference tackled some of America's most important issues today, such as health care, free speech, "safe schools," malfeasance at the FBI, and more.

The film screenings and premieres brought alive the conservative values you and I share and treasure. Our impact wasn't limited to in-person attendance. CNN.com live-streamed Interior Secretary Zinke's remarks, and C-SPAN recorded several of Saturday's sessions, allowing millions of viewers across the nation to see our work in action in the coming weeks and months.

With your support, The Steamboat Institute will continue to promote civilized debate and discussion on these issues - and more - over the coming year through our exceptional events as well as our leveraged opportunities for our next generation of leaders.

Our work has equipped thousands of liberty-minded Americans to own their beliefs and enter the political fray, and I'm glad you were able to witness your impact in action. We hope we can count on your continued support.

Sam is it possible to aim for Monday on this? Jim is traveling Friday he'll actually be visiting Yellowstone, so he won't have mobile service. We can figure out how to make it work if Monday isn't viable. Sorry I hate to proffer changes after you've so graciously worked to accommodate us.

What are the odds that they would both find themselves in places without cell service? I dream of such places...

In any event, what about this: Armando Pimentel, who is the CEO of NextEra Energy Resources (NEER), is Thursday (except from 11:00 to 12:00) and available up until 3:00 on Friday (he's getting on a plane), so he could do the call with the Secretary if that's okay with you all? NEER is one of two principal subsidiaries of NextEra Energy the other is Florida Power & Light. So, the CEO's of those to companies are our number 2's. Mountain Valley Pipeline is under NEER.
