Union Railroad

The Union RR provides rail service for U. S. Steel's milles near Pittsburgh, PA. Much of the railroad's business comes from hauling steel and the raw materials used in making steel. At North Bessemer, PA, the Union makes a connection with its sister road, Bessemer & Lake Erie. McKeesport Connecting RR, another Union RR sister, makes a connection at Riverton, PA. The Union RR became a part of U. S. Steel in 1901. U. S. Steel owned the Union; McKeesport Connecting; Bessemer & Lake Erie; Elgin, Joliet & Eastern; and Duluth, Missabe & Iron Range railroads until 1988, at which time the roads were sold to their present owner, Transtar, Inc.
