DOWNEY STILL SEES HOPE FOR NAVAL ACADEMY IN WEST

WASHINGTON — A former naval aviator who was shot down in the Pacific during World War II, but who still believes in the future of the naval academy in West Point, N.Y., is now a member of the board of directors of the academy.

The academy, which was founded in 1819, is the oldest of the five service academies in the United States. It is the only one that is a part of the Department of the Navy.

Downey, who was a naval aviator from 1941 to 1945, was shot down on June 30, 1945, while flying a P-51 Mustang over the Philippines. He was captured by the Japanese and held in a prisoner-of-war camp for two years.

Downey, who is now 50 years old, is a member of the board of directors of the academy since 1960. He is also a member of the academy's alumni association.

Youth Steals 17 Cars, Loots 110 More

CINCINNATI — A 14-year-old boy admitted to FBI agents that he had stolen 17 autos and looted 110 others since the first of the year.

The youth was arraigned before J. Paul Geoghegan, U. S. commissioner, on charges of violating the national auto theft act. He was accused of taking the car to help his escape from the Starr camp in Bellevue, Mich., where he was confined on an auto theft charge.
