1. Registration. To register for an Event, you must complete the online registration process and pay all applicable fees prior to any deadline as described on the Event registration page. If applicable payments are not promptly submitted, EPRI reserves the right to cancel your registration without notice for failure to pay. By completing the online registration, you confirm that you are over 18 years of age. You further warrant and represent that: (1) the information you provide is true and accurate to the best of your knowledge; (2) you have the legal authority to bind the person or entity that you are representing, and (3) you are not in violation of any U.S. or foreign export law or regulation by registering for the Event.
2. Cancellations or Changes. Events and registrations are subject to availability and may close earlier than the posted deadline. EPRI reserves the right to cancel, limit, or otherwise change ("Change") an Event in our sole discretion. EPRI is not responsible for any damages or losses, direct or indirect, resulting from such Change. In the event that EPRI makes a Change to an Event or to your registration, and if you are in compliance with all applicable terms, EPRI will issue a refund or other discount or credit as appropriate.
3. Code of Conduct. By registering for an Event, you agree to comply with all applicable laws and further agree not to engage in any form of disruptive, harassing, offensive, discriminatory or threatening speech or behavior. You agree to comply with the instructions of Event staff or moderators. If we find that Event participants are engaging in or threatening behavior that breaches the Code of Conduct, we may ask such participants to leave the Event and may further prohibit such participants from attending future Events. If we require you to leave an Event, you will not be eligible to receive a refund. If you witness such behavior, please contact an Event staff member.
4. Your Information and Privacy. If you register for an Event, we collect your name, contact information, and other information as appropriate, in order to process your registration request and to provide you with information and services related to the Event. We use Cvent to assist with Event registrations, and your information will be securely transferred from Cvent to EPRI. We keep a record of your Event registrations and may further use your information, with your consent, to notify you about other EPRI events, products and services. The information you provide may also be used to support EPRI's legitimate interests to tailor products and services to your interests. Please review our Privacy Policy and Cvent's Privacy Policy for further details.
5. Recordings and Materials. EPRI may photograph, video record, audio record, and/or webcast the Event in which you participate in any media ("Recordings"). This includes your voice, images, and any chat log that you voluntarily contribute to via the Event videoconferencing platform. If you are a speaker or presenter, you further agree that EPRI may distribute or make available to others the materials you present, if any ("Materials"). For example, in anticipation of, during and following an Event, EPRI may distribute copies of the Materials to Event participants and others, and/or make the Materials available from an EPRI website, which may be accessible by the general public.

All Event participants hereby grant EPRI and its designees the unrestricted and sublicensable right with respect to Recordings and Materials, including your name, likeness, image, voice, appearance, biographical information, and performance to: (a) use, on a non-exclusive basis, in whole or in parts, in its publication(s), presentation(s), and marketing collateral; and (b) reproduce, publish, republish, transmit, broadcast and distribute in electronic and print editions in all languages and in all media of expression throughout the world. EPRI disclaims all liability for the capture of your image by Event attendees in any format.
