RE: Aberdeen Contractor Safety Orientation

DT: 10 February 1983

This is the final draft of the subject safety show, which has been approved up through John Friend at the Aberdeen plant. Please look it over and get back to Al Sather with your comments. Once you two are in agreement, the modified script should be ready for production.

As it stands, this is the first of a four-part safety orientation/training program for contractors coming into the Aberdeen plant from the outside. Parts 2 and 3, VCM Health Training and Lead Safety, respectively, are both very nearly complete (see separate memo on these). The final part, covering specific safety rules and the plant's permit system, is scheduled for development early on.
