Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Williams, any recross?

MR. WILLIAMS: Your Honor, given Mr. Ignatowski's redirect, I believe that I do have some recross, but it is probably the subject of one of the Court's prior rulings that we may need to take up.

THE COURT: All right. Then that means you have no recross at this time?

MR. WILLIAMS: That is correct, but I would like to address the issue with you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You may.

MR. WILLIAMS: Prior to the excusal of the witness.

THE COURT: Do you want the witness to return at 2 o'clock?

MR. WILLIAMS: Well, Your Honor, I want an answer to the resolution of what I need to raise with you prior to the excusal of the witness.

THE COURT: If I have already sustained an objection to it when it was previously offered, what makes you think I am going to change the ruling of the
