INSURANCE - History of Carriers

From 1946 thru 1956:	Maryland Casualty Company. Coverage of at least $300,000 per occurrence and $1 million in the aggregate.
From 1956 thru 1971:	Liberty Mutual Insurance Company provided casualty and general liability coverage of at least $500,000 per occurrence and $3 million in the aggregate.
From 1971 thru 1974:	The Travelers Insurance Companies provided CGL coverage of at least $500,000 per occurrence and $3 million in the aggregate.
From 1974 thru 1975:	Argonaut Insurance Company provided CGL primary insurance coverage of $950,000 in excess of $50,000 self-insurance retention while during the same period, additional insurers provided $40 million of excess coverage.
From 1975 thru 1976:	Continental Insurance Company provided primary CGL coverage in the amount of $900,000 in excess of $100,000 self-insurance retention while other carriers provided $45 million worth of excess coverage.
From 1976 thru 1978:	Continental Insurance Company provided primary CGL coverage in the amount of $750,000 in excess of $250,000 self-insurance retention while other insurers provided minimum excess coverage of $45 million.
From 1978 thru 1979:	Northwestern National Insurance Company provided $1 million of primary CGL coverage while other insurers provide an additional $80 million of excess coverage.
From 1979 thru 1980:	Continental Insurance Company provided primary CGL coverage in the amount of $1 million while other insurers provided excess coverage of $75 million.
From 1980 thru 1983:	National Union Fire Insurance Company of Pittsburgh provided primary CGL coverage in the amount of $1 million while other insured provided excess coverage ranging from a minimum of $100 million to a maximum of $180 million.

EXHIBIT "B"