Subject: PFAS Restriction: PVDF Use in Water & Wastewater Treatment

Dear 5.1.2e [redacted],

I hope you have had a nice summer break!

In one of our previous conversations, you had mentioned that we could send you additional information for product categories that do not fall within the focus product categories (e.g. transport, construction, textiles) for the broad PFAS restriction. During the previous PFAS consultation we already provided input regarding the use of PVDF membranes in water filtration.

Meanwhile, we have put together the attached case study that also assesses the economic impact of a PVDF ban for water and waste water treatment.

We hope that you could still consider this information as input for the preparation of the draft PFAS restriction dossier.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to us.

Best regards and thank you very much,
