Dear Dr. Kehoe:

We have been advised by the Cooperative G.L.F. Farms Supply, Inc. at Ithaca, N.Y., that one of their men developed some unexplained stomach trouble which they believed was caused by working around leaded gasoline. He has since been transferred to another division of the Company and during the past few weeks has had no trouble.

See folder

His own doctor could not diagnose his trouble and could offer him no relief. The Company reports he was in extremely good physical health and that there was no reason for any kind of a physical ailment. From our investigation we cannot see where leaded gasoline has any connection with this case. We are merely passing it along to you as a matter of record. Should you care for more detail information regarding this man, we will gladly secure it for you.

Yours very truly,

M. A. Taylor
