mark (AP) — The United States is gradually withdrawing men from its two defense bases in Greenland. Danes now out-number the U.S. garrison.

The Danish government says it has no word of a possible shutdown in the area, and assumes that the cuts in manpower are parts of the U.S. program to reduce the cost of defense bases abroad.

Greenland is a link between the United States and Europe. It is the world's largest island and one of the most sparsely inhabited areas. Some 40,000 people are in 840,000 square miles — 21 square miles for every Greenlander. An icecap covers five-sixths of the surface. Ice makes Greenland inaccessible to ships most of the year.

Same Mission

The Thule base, established at the end of World War II, is a child of the cold war and ostensibly designed as a U.S. safeguard against a surprise enemy missile attack over the Polar Region. Today this base still serves the same mission, although U.S. personnel has dropped from an original 8,000 to 1,200. Besides its early warning system against missiles, Thule also is a supply base for weather stations, and a base for smiths, welders, cooks, electricians, office staff. Their duties include maintenance and repairs of roads, electrical installations, heating, water supplies, garbage collecting.

Breton Succumbs

Poet and essayist Andre Breton, credited with the founding of surrealism in literature and art, died Tuesday in Paris at the age of 70. Breton was an associate of the principal liberal and leftist theoreticians in the early 1920s. This is a 1962 photograph.

Contract

The Danish Construction Corp., composed of a group of contractors, is in charge of the base. The Danish ambassador in Washington at that time, Henrik Kauffmann, broke off all contact with Nazi-occupied Denmark and agreed to construction of U.S. base in Greenland to support the allied war effort.

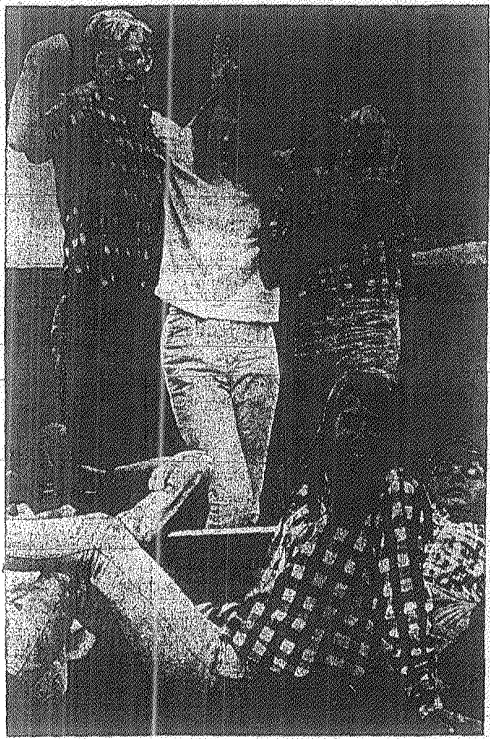

The bases served American built fighter aircraft flying to Europe and as bases for the wartime network of Air Force convoys on the North Atlantic.

Starting today you can enjoy the Continental life '67 style.

Today people enjoy life more than ever. They can do more things than ever before, if they want to. Teach their children to ride. Enjoy boating. Own a good home—and even a second home.

And own a Lincoln Continental. Continental is the luxury car that belongs in today's good life. Designed for the uncluttered taste of our times, it is engineered to be the best car America has to offer.

Inside the 1967 Continental you'll find a new design instrument panel. A new warning light cluster. A new lane-changing signal that operates at a touch. A new ventilation system that can change the air inside your Continental even with the windows up.

Luxury options? Certainly. A power seat with a power adjustable headrest and new reclining feature. An improved automatic temperature control system. A new automatic speed control operated by a push button at the end of the turn-signal lever.

For 1967, Continental has also redesigned the configuration of the taillights and restyled the grille. But the basic contemporary design remains unchanged. We don't believe in change merely for the sake of change. A Continental idea that gives you lasting investment value.

It's a good car; built to the highest standards in the world. Your Lincoln Continental dealer invites you to see and drive the 1967 Continental. To discover how close you may be to owning a Continental. And to add the model of your choice to the good things in your life this year.
