

show a slight increase this summer. Despite the complexity of the nation's massive food price problem, one fact seems clear, say some economists: "Middleman" price increments — in the beef industry, at least — are piecemeal increments and not necessarily step-by-step, villainous jumps at all.

C&H Honors Long-Timers

Two Peninsula residents were among 14 long-time members of C and H Sugar's San Francisco headquarters organization receiving service awards at a luncheon hosted by company officers last week.

Edward F. Harder of Burlingame, who is assistant general sales manager, was honored for 35 years with the company.

A 25-year award was presented to Clyde C. LaVerne of San Mateo, who is supervisor, field representatives, in the Northern California region.
