I am very glad we met, Matt. Let's stay in touch. Maybe I can make the Portland meeting.

Thanks,
Scott

Scott,

Thank you for meeting me yesterday afternoon! I really appreciate it, and so delighted that DOI will recuperate the Nat'l Invasive species council. Please let me know how I can help.

Here is the real-time online link to all of our western AIS watercraft inspection stations. Every state is using this, and adding to it in real time. If you hover over any station, you can see the hours of operation.

http://psmfc.maps.arcgis.com/apps/webappviewer/index.html?id_aa6a6527a26a44ddbff097b99241462e

In our report that is attached we detail the costs of most of these stations.

I'd love to get you or anyone on your team out to our Summit in July (24-26) in Portland, Oregon. Draft agenda for the Invasive Species session is attached. AND - I just had a great talk with Jamie, and look forward to helping in Whitefish.

Thanks Scott!

Jamie is going to get an address where my license plate covered with Quagga mussels - that I am ready to FedEx to you (b) (6)!

Best Regards,

Matt

Lizette,
We all appreciate your time and the fact that you made so much of your staff available today. I think it was a fruitful interaction and I sense we have a number of helpful and workable ideas to pursue that will yield a higher level of protection for Western aquatic ecosystems. We soon need to start thinking about what can be reasonably done in the rest of the Lower Colorado system.

Thanks,
Scott

I am looking forward to our discussions and visiting the NRA. It has been 30 years since I was there last, so I am sure things have changed a bit.

Thanks,

Scott

Good Morning

I am looking forward to hosting you next week at Lake Mead to have a robust conversation on our AIS program and share ideas and ways we can all work collaboratively on the topics of concern included with the agenda.

We will be meeting in Boulder City and I included a map and directions to our meeting place as well as the menu for our working lunch. We can collect the lunch information and funds at the beginning of the meeting. If you have any special dietary needs, please let me know and I will make plans to accommodate your request.

Hilary, thanks again for all your help with coordinating the visit and developing the agenda.

I appreciate everyone taking time out of your busy schedule to see our amazing park and please feel free to give me a call if you have any questions.

Safe travels

Respectfully
