PITTSBURGH 30, PA.

SUBJECT: Amendment #8 to Order 1 under
Maximum Price Regulation 591,
Applying to Cast Iron Gas Boilers

TO THE WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTOR:

Effective at once, previous prices for the American Gas Boilers listed on the attached sheets are withdrawn and revised Trade Prices will apply as shown herein.

These new prices have been increased pursuant to Amendment 8 to Order 1 under MPR-591, effective April 2, 1946. The Amendment permits manufacturers of Cast Iron Gas-fired Boilers to increase their prices for such boilers by 10-1/2%. This results in the new Trade Prices shown on the attached sheets. Repair parts for American Cast Iron Gas Boilers are not subject to this increase.

According to the wording of Amendment 8, resellers of cast iron gas boilers are permitted to add to their new cost, after they have been notified by the manufacturer, the same percentage of mark-up over costs which they had in effect on April 1, 1946. In other words, the reseller is permitted by the Amendment to add the full 10-1/2% to his resale prices for gas boilers.

Orders now on hand at Pittsburgh will be invoiced on the basis of prices in effect on date of order.

Current Wholesalers' Discounts, Terms and Freight Conditions apply.

Prices subject to change without notice.

While we have indicated the manner in which you are permitted to increase your resale prices as a result of Amendment 8 to Order 1 under MPR-591, we suggest that you secure copies of this Regulation from the nearest OPA Office or from OPA, Washington (25), D. C., for your additional guidance.

Please note that the inclusion of prices for any product in this Bulletin is not necessarily an indication of immediate availability. You will be notified in the regular manner through our Sales Office covering your territory as to when and in what quantities orders for any products may be accepted by us.

Additional copies of this Bulletin will be mailed upon request.
