Dear Mr. Brittingham:

I am writing to express my appreciation for the consideration shown employees of your Owentown, Texas Plant No. 7 during the recently concluded negotiations.

The meetings were conducted on a high level as one would expect any business transaction to be, and while there were honest differences of opinion at times, there was no exchange of an unpleasant nature.

It is with a great deal of satisfaction that I learned you made some personal decisions that were helpful in concluding these negotiations, and I shall be disappointed indeed if these negotiations do not result in a better and more productive working climate at this plant so that when we meet again for a new agreement we will have more modern equipment and a unit cost of production that will be an invitation to plant expansion here.

I am enclosing a copy of this letter for both Mr. Kelley and Mr. Unkovic, and would greatly appreciate your routing to them.

With every good wish for continued good health, I am,

Yours very truly,

Dial Murphy
