Subsidiary Locations

Working hard to keep a roof over your head? GAF is one of the US's oldest sources of commercial roofing material. Through its subsidiary, GAF Materials, the company manufactures commercial and residential roofing and other building products such as fiber-cement siding and roof insulation. Other products include the Sovereign and Timberline series of residential shingles; GAF CompositeRoof, for commercial asphalt roofing, and GAFWARE, a software program used by construction project managers to select the best roof for a building. GAF Materials, which is employee owned, has more than 25 plants in the US.
