Dear Sir:

Attached is a newspaper article expounding upon the perils of asbestos. This type publicity is becoming an increasing detriment to the sales of your product, Super Visbestos.

Will you please provide all possible assistance to show that this material is not a health hazard? Information must be legitimate and be from internationally recognized research laboratories. In the enclosed article the author, Mrs. Nancy Tait quotes "Wet dust does not become airborne and is not inhaled". Since this lady is so dedicated to her research, may I suggest that you write to her for her approval of your product. A letter from an individual such as she could be worth more than all the reports from governmental agencies combined.

Please act quickly on this matter for it is curtailing our sales. In fact, we can not afford to order additional material until we can convince our warehouse people and our customers that it is not a health hazard. At this time we cannot do this for I do not know if it is safe or not.

We anxiously await your reply and literature.

Sincerely yours,

Jerry E. Haston
