REDACTED

Numerous photographs and slides are taken in field and laboratory environments which can be of assistance to persons making presentations. I have begun to file these by topic to enable individual access to this resource. Current topics include:

Asbestos Removal,

However, the number of slides and range of topics should be expanded.

Please submit any materials you think may be useful. Materials which you have prepared specifically for a lecture should not be submitted, although a list of subjects for which you have prepared slide presentations would be beneficial.

As this project progresses I will issue information concerning how to use the file and where it will be stored.

Your assistance in this effort is greatly appreciated.
