Subject: Announcing NEW Author Accepted Manuscripts - Available Now

Organizations like yours are demanding better, faster access to high-quality research. SAE is leading the charge to meet this need by offering free access to Author Accepted Manuscripts on SAE MOBILUS. Starting now, you can read newly submitted research from industry thought leaders, even before it's been edited, for up to a week, making our users some of the very first to hear about breakthroughs and developments important to their work.

Helping to connect authors and readers as early as possible, our Author Accepted Manuscripts program is a first for our industry and for commercial publishers at large.

This opportunity is just one of many exciting changes happening to SAE's Scholarly Journals program. Learn more about our Scholarly Journals and browse our collection of titles today.
