Asbestos Information Package

The OHWG reviewed the recently completed videotape on asbestos information for Bell System Employees who may encounter asbestos in the course of their regularly assigned jobs. The program is intended to provide basic information on asbestos: its uses, health hazards, precautions, work practices, and OSHA requirements. Accompanying the videotape is a handout brochure that highlights the important points of the program.

Ordering information for the program will be sent to Medical Directors and Safety Coordinators early in June.
