

To: Jackson, Ryan[jackson.ryan@epa.gov]
From: Nora Gardner
Sent: Mon 10/9/2017 12:23:55 PM
Subject: You are invited to McKinsey's Woman in the Workplace DC launch

Hello,

On behalf of McKinsey & Company, I am pleased to invite you to the Public Sector launch of our report, Women in the Workplace 2017, taking place Thursday, November 9, from 5-7pm at the Ritz Carlton in Washington, DC. You can RSVP by emailing PublicSectorWiW@mckinsey.com.

This report, part of a long-term partnership between McKinsey and LeanIn.org, is a comprehensive study of the state of women in the American workplace. For the first time this year, McKinsey has piloted a survey of public sector workplaces to begin to build the fact base on the state of women in public sector America. During our program, I will provide a brief introduction to put this research in context for the public sector. We'll also be joined by a panel of dynamic women in government who will discuss opportunities to support gender diversity.

I hope you will be able to join us for this special night. Let me know if you would like to discuss this research and opportunities to participate in our public sector Women in the Workplace survey.

Regards,

Nora Gardner
Partner, McKinsey & Company

About Women in the Workplace

Women in the Workplace 2017 is a part of a long-term partnership between McKinsey & Company and LeanIn.Org to give organizations the information they need to promote female leadership and foster gender equality in the workplace. Two hundred and twenty-two companies, states and federal agencies employing more than 12 million people shared their pipeline data and completed a survey of HR practices. In addition, more than 70,000 employees completed a survey designed to explore their experiences regarding gender, opportunity, career, and work-life issues. This year's report can be viewed at "www.womenintheworkplace.com".

To unsubscribe from future emails, please click here

McKinsey & Company · 1200 19th St NW #1000 · Washington · DC 20036 · US.