TO: R. G. Potter

The effects of exposure of PCBs on our employees have been reviewed by our Medical Department and a consultant from the Eppley Institute, University of Nebraska. In summary, there is no evidence that our employees have been adversely effected by PCBs. A copy of the Eppley Institute report is attached.

We have no information relating to the effects of PCBs on the people in the areas surrounding our producing facility. We have no programs underway at present to study these effects.
