That would be great! There is a slight chance that an out of town client is showing up Weds morning but right now I think it works well.

Thanks Samantha--- if you tell me where and when I will be there--- though there is the slim possibility that the client meeting will supersede (that scheduling is beyond my control). Just let me know what is best for you. And thank you SO much! :)

Of course Carrie. Why don't we shoot for early Wednesday morning, would that work?
