Dear Joe:

Attached is a draft of what I will talk about at the A/C Pipe Producers Annual Meeting.

You will note that there are some blanks that I have to complete with factual information, but this particular detail is not necessary for you and Art to get the gist of what I will be saying.

If you have any thoughts or recommendations, I would be most appreciative to hear from you.

Very truly yours,

SUBJECT AACPP Role in Preparation of Position Paper on Dust Control in A/C Pipe Manufacturing Facilities

REF: (1) BOD Meeting, April 16, 1981
(2) JCJ correspondence, May 7, 1981
(3) Kirkland and Ellis correspondence, June 9, 1981 (attached)

ACTION REQUIRED: Review for action at 7/16/81 Executive Committee Meeting

AIA/NA special counsel, Kirkland & Ellis, has asked AACPP to assist in the preparation of position papers on (a) current monitoring data and technological feasibility of improved dust control in A/C pipe plants and (b) the frequency of use of abrasive disc saws and other tools used in the installation of A/C pipe.

Upon approval, item (b) can be researched with the cooperation of the National Utility Contractors Association (NUCA) or one of its regional affiliates, perhaps the Western Utility Contractors. However, Item (a) will require the review of A/C pipe sector monitoring data reported to Opinion Research Corporation(ORC)/Arthur D. Little, Inc. under contract to AIA/NA. Since these data are considered confidential between A/C pipe manufacturers, ORC and Kirkland & Ellis, AACPP hereby requests that it be granted access to the data via Kirkland & Ellis for purpose of preparing the position paper.

Executive Committee members should contact their AIA/NA counterparts, request permission for access to the required data, and advise Staff at the 7/16/81 Executive Committee meeting.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call.
