Dear Bob,

I trust that you returned from your recent cruise rested and full of enthusiasm. I also had a brief vacation, spending 10 days in Peru with some of my grandchildren.

Before leaving Washington, I drafted a letter for Dr. Hollis' signature making our discussion official with regard to your coming to Chile to assist us in organizing our Research and Teaching program. I sincerely hope that you will be able to come here and that you will do so as early as your present commitments permit. In the meanwhile, I am wondering if you could suggest someone in toxicology with particular experience in pesticides. I know that you yourself have contributed greatly to this field, but we do not want to overburden you on your first visit. We should like to have someone who has had practical epidemiological experience in the field and I recall you telling me, on the occasion of my visit, that you could help us out on this score.

Kindest personal regards and best wishes for the new year.

Sincerely,
