of Pittsburgh in 1957.

I accepted a position as a research paint chemist at a small company in Pittsburgh called the Pruett-Schaffer Chemical Company. We developed a variety of paint formulations for industrial uses.

Q Okay. And how long did you stay in that job?

A Just a little less than one year, and I was drafted into the Armed Forces, the Army actually.

Q Okay. When you went into the Army, what was your job?

A To get through basic training first.

(Whereupon, laughter ensued.)

A I went to Fort Knox and went through basic training and after that there were a group of us assigned to the Edgewood Arsenal Army Chemical Center just up the road here near Aberdeen in Edgewood, Maryland.

I was there for the duration of my time and served in the biological sciences portion of the chemical warfare laboratories, and in that position,
