Dear Dr. Kehoe:

I have just received your letter dated July 20th. Thank you very much for the reservations at the Vernon Manor hotel. I am sure that it will be alright.

I will be arriving in Cincinnati on August 18th at 12.15 am instead 11 am, flight AAL 781. I hope I can visit your laboratory in the afternoon.

Looking forward to see you, I remain,

Sincerely Yours

Dear Doctor Pavlovsky:

I was pleased to learn from Messrs. Bevan and Noble in London (from where I have just returned) that you had planned to visit us soon. Your letter of July 12th came as an additional pleasure, if not a surprise.

I shall be in Cincinnati (aside from a few days of unavoidable absence) throughout August, and I shall certainly be happy to have you visit me and my associates. If you will telephone me - Avon 1-2568, Extension 301 - 302 - shortly after your arrival at your hotel, we shall get together soon thereafter. It is likely that I shall meet you at the Airport, but I cannot be sure that that will be possible. If I fail to meet you, you had best take the air-port limousine to down-town Cincinnati and then take a taxicab to The Vernon-Manor Hotel, where we have engaged a room for you. This hotel is in the suburban part of Cincinnati and is near the Laboratory. We thought it would be more convenient for you than any of the down-town hotels.

In anticipation of seeing and talking with you again, I am,

Sincerely yours,

---

Robert A. Kehoe, M. D.
