Gentlemen:

Att: Dr. Kehoe

We have been consulted by [REDACTED] who informs us that he is still disabled as a result of lead poisoning contracted about four years ago while he was employed as a printer for the Review Publishing Company, Lockland.

He tells us that he received workmen's compensation for a period of nine month's disability and does not understand why this compensation ceased at that time, and that he has been on relief since.

We shall appreciate it if you will give us a history of your contact with the man and whether you consider him still disabled in order that we may attempt to assist him in getting further compensation.

Very truly yours,

W. A. Lovell
