

ould Revise n Secrecy

The Moorhead's bill would amend the 1966 Freedom of Information Act. President Nixon's executive order revamping the classification system, effective June 1, is "unworkable, unmanageable and filled with technical defects and massive loopholes," Moorhead said.

"Government files are clogged with many hundreds of millions of so-called classified documents, but expert testimony before our subcommittee has estimated that 75 to 99 per cent of these documents should not be classified at all," Moorhead said.

The bill would limit classification authority to 13 executives departments and agencies with strict limits on those who can use it.

UN Prestige Is Defended

MONTREAL (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim says a lack of interest in the United Nations by the superpowers is a passing phenomenon.

"The United Nations was conceived as a forum for their co-operation and has helped them effectively in a number of very critical situations over the years," he told a United Nations Association of Canada meeting Wednesday night. "I'm sure it will do so again in times of crisis."

He said a "new breed of non-political problems on a global
