CALLAHANS ARE COMING

YREKA, Cal. (U.P.) — The little mountain town of Callahan, Cal., lays claim to the title of the most military-minded community in the country. Every able-bodied male in the town has joined the California state militia. The 111 men enrolled, ranging from their teens to 70 years of age, are known as the Callahan Rifles.

Fuel-oil consumption varies almost exactly with the weather; if a winter is 10 per cent, consumption in each burner is about 10 per cent less.

"We had an SOS from the horror-stricken commanding officer and we looked after the girl," said Mrs. Longbottom, wife of the Rector of Warrington.

"Then we discovered that not only had she this baby but a hus-
