Dear Mr. Stone:-

My present plans make it quite convenient for me to see you in Cincinnati on Saturday, March 4th. If anything should occur between now and then to make this date impossible for me to fulfill, I will telephone you.

Let me warn you not to try to find me at the University of Cincinnati campus. If you come to Cincinnati by train, take a taxi to the College of Medicine, Eden Avenue, since the University campus is some distance away from the Medical College. If you drive, ask for directions to the Cincinnati General Hospital when you reach Cincinnati, and from there it will be an easy matter to find the College of Medicine which is near by.

Very truly yours,

RAK:ls
