

Painted 5 years ago— $0.00 spent on maintenance!

Naturally. Because these storage tanks are protected by an Oncor® M50® Defense-in-Depth paint system.

Oncor M50 is the basic Lead Silico Chromate pigment that builds rust-fighting protection and unmatched weatherability into every coat—primer to finish.

What about color? You can pick just about any you like. And no matter which you pick, it'll stay bright and true year after year.

Like to know more about this proven way to fight corrosion and remain colorful, while saving money
