We finally have confirmation of the inaugural event date! Richard has names of representatives from three companies: Don for PB, Patrick for ChevronTexaco, and Tang Ling (VP Government and Public Affairs) for ExxonMobil. Is there someone at Shell and Conoco Rich should invite/expect to attend?

To all:

The JCML inaugural celebration will be held in Shanghai on Tuesday evening, December 9th. Dr. Richard Spelman, Consul General of the US, and a Vice Mayor of Shanghai will be in attendance, along with Fudan University officials. It will be open to all collaborators and participants in laboratory operations.

Invitations will be sent out soon.

Regards,

RDI

Sarah, Nick,

As requested, I can attend for Shell China as a Board representative. Please advise details, timing and invitation. Thanks.

Suggest we should also invite our Shell Chemical Shanghai MAP and Alfred who are both based in Shanghai to attend with me as it may help them with future contacts. Appreciate if Alfred or Nicholas can advise the name of the SCMAP in Shanghai for Sarah. Thanks.

Sarah,

I would have attended but I am away from China that week. Henry Wang said he would be willing to attend on behalf of Shell but this is a new date so I copy him in to see if it is possible for him.

Hi Nick,

A date for the benzene inaugural event has finally been set for Dec. 9 in Shanghai.

Dr. Richard Spelman, Consul General of the US, and a Vice Mayor of Shanghai will be in attendance, along with Fudan University officials. It will be open to all collaborators and participants in laboratory operations.

Other companies (see below) are sending managerial -level or VPs.

What do you recommend for Shell?

Sarah
